ABOUT ME

- I am a recent graduate with a BBA (Hons) degree in finance and accounting and a keen interest in this field.
- I have studied many courses, including advanced corporate accounting, financial statement, and analysis, security analysis and portfolio management, banking, and financial management.
- During my studies, I gained practical experience through an internship at a reputable financial institution.
- I am particularly interested in applying my analytical and problem-solving skills to the financial sector, and I am eager to explore opportunities in this area.
- Additionally, I have volunteered in content writing, where I have developed my skills in creating engaging and informative content.
- With my academic background, practical experience, and passion for finance and accounting, I am well-equipped to succeed in roles that require both financial knowledge and strong communication skills.
